

PRIVACY POLICY

Please read this privacy policy carefully before using this Website or submitting any personal information. By using this Website, you are agreeing to these privacy terms ("Privacy Policy"). If you do not agree, do not use this Website.

Commitment to Privacy

This Website, www.ucxchange.com (the "Website"), is owned and operated by UCX LLC ("UCX", "us", "we" or "our"), a Delaware limited liability company. UCX respects the privacy of every individual who uses this Website and therefore, we only wish to process and use the data obtained through the Website for our own purposes.

Changes to Privacy Statement

Because of changes in internet technology and practices, this Privacy Policy, and our security and other policies, may change from time to time. Please consult this portion of the Website for important changes to the Privacy Policy as they occur. Unless otherwise provided in an agreement between you and UCX, by using the Website after UCX posts any changes to this Privacy Policy, you agree to accept those changes, whether or not you have reviewed them, and such acceptance shall be deemed legally conclusive. If at any time you choose not to accept the terms of this Privacy Policy, you should not use the Website and enter information about yourself or your business.

Other Agreements with UCX

For users who have entered into agreements with UCX for other services off-line, those agreements shall govern the relationship between the user and UCX for that service. To the extent those provisions differ from this Privacy Policy, the terms of that agreement shall govern and control that particular service.

Personally Identifiable Information

When you access and/or use this Website, we or our service providers may obtain data concerning that access and use. If you register to use and log in and use any areas or services provided on or through the Website you may be asked to provide personally identifiable information about yourself. This data may include, but is not limited to your name address and other demographic, professional data, telephone number, credit or financial information, government issued identification number or email address. We will not collect any personally identifiable information about you unless you provide it to us voluntarily. If you opt not to provide us with personally identifiable information, no material consequences will result, although there may be services that may be unavailable to you.

Use of Personally Identifiable Information

UCX may store and process your personally identifiable information in order to affect your purchase of our services, to better understand your needs and to learn how to improve our services and products. We may also use your personally identifiable information to contact you (for example, we may send you marketing or promotional materials or other information, we may respond to your comments or requests for information, we may ask you for feedback on products and services or we may contact you if needed in the course of processing your requests). UCX may also use your personally identifiable information in accordance with any agreements that you may have entered into with us.

Disclosure

To enable us to more efficiently provide the products and services you have requested from us, UCX may share your personal information with selected third parties who are acting on our behalf as our agents, suppliers, or providers. Such third party service providers are provided only with such information as is necessary under the circumstances. Information provided to third parties is used only for the purposes stipulated and those third parties are subject to confidentiality obligations. We may also enhance or merge personally identifiable information with data obtained from third parties for any of the foregoing purposes. Nothing in the Privacy Policy shall be deemed to prohibit us from disclosing your identity information if we are required by law to do so.
